FROM PENSACOLA.

Point has arrived, but brings no news later. A great many rumors were flying about relative to the afful at Pensacoh. One story was that Fort Pickens had been taken by the rebels. Another that Fort Pickens was victorious, and that Gen. Bragg had been killed. Another that after two days, hard fighting, a great storm arose, and both parties had to cease fring. that feen kragg had been killed. Another that after two days, hard fighting, a great storm arose, and both parties had to cease firing.

The Richmond Dispatch, of the 28th inst., gives the following particulars of the fight at Pensecola, taken from the Pensacola Observer of the 22d and 23d. It thus announces the beginning of the fight:

"At five minutes past ten o'clock this morning, a heavy and continuous fire commenced at the forts below. On which side it commenced we are unable to say. Up to this writing (one o'clock) the fire still continues, and we can only give the hope that the boundardment has opened in good carnest. We shall publish the news as fast as we get it. We learn from a person just from the Naryward that the fire was opened from fort Ficens upon the Confederate attained order. The U.S. steamer Magara is trying to cross the har for the purpose cuttering the harbor. The Excitement in the town is intense. The business have been a closed, and the house-towned will an excited populace." The firing, as we stated yesterday, begun from Fort Pickens. The whole of their fire during the morning was directed at the steamer Times, but with very liftle effect. The Times came up hast night, and with the exception of two or three little holes, made with rifte shot, she is unburt. This shows that their guns are of a very inferior character, or that Col. Brown and his Tankees are all drunk—very probably the latter. The steamer Nelmo was also in the engagement with the Times, at the beginning of the fire. Only one shot struck her, and that did not do much damage. The Nelmo accupile of shots, which were returned. The firing is Niagara tried hard to one, but her reception was too hot, and she had to back out.

A London letter in the Times mentions a rimor that a British steam frigate would watch the James Adger on her departure from Southampton, England, in consequence of the bellef that her errand was to overhand the West-Molis mail packet and arrest Mason and Siddell. The chase desisted when it became obvious that she had other business.

igni in the early part of the year, and the sales were confined mainly to the local trade; but since the blockade of the Mississippi river, a large trade has sprung up—the sales ranging from $4.00 to 4.50 for red winter extras, and $4.50 to 5.00 for white winter extras. $4.50 to 5.00 for white winter extras. The quality of the spring extra flour sold in this market is annually improving. The New England demand for it alone is very extensive, and some of our choice club wheat extras are favorites in Boston. There is also a large demand for Chicago flour in Philadel-

The History of the Conspirac The Union was formed, with the a conspiracy latent in its bosom. The new concessions. Meanwhile the conspiracy grew until at last in 1800, under the influence of Mr. Cathoun, it assumed the default front of Nullification: nor did it yield to the irresistible logic of Webster or the stern will of Jackron without a compromise. The pretended ground of complaint was the tariff; but Andrew Jackron, himself a patriot slave-hodier—at that time President—asw the hollowness of the complaint. In a confidential letter, which has only recently been brought to light dated at Washington 1st May, 1885—and which during the last winter I had the honor of reading and holding up before the conspirators of the Senate, in the original autograph—he says:

honor of reading and holding up before the conspirators of the Senate, in the original autograph—he says:

"The Tariff was only the pretest and distanton and the Southern Confederacy the real object. The next pricest will be the negre or storery question."

Jackson was undoubtedly right; but the pretext which he denounced in advance was employed so constantly afterwards as to become thread-bare. At the carliest presentation of Abolition petitions—at the Texas question—on all these occasions the Union was threatened by the angry slave-masters.

But the conspiracy has been unblushingly confessed by recent parties to it. Especially was this done in the rebel Convention of South Carolina.

Mr. Packer said—"Secession is no spasmodic effort that has come suddenly upon us. It has been gradually culminating for a long series of years."

Mr. Inglis said—"Most of us have had this subject under consideration for the last twenty years."

Mr. Inglis said—"Most of us have had this subject under consideration for the last twenty years."

Mr. Keitt said—"I have been engaged in this movement ever since I entered political life!"

Ms. Rett, who was in the Senate when I first entered that body, and did not hesitate then to avow himself a Disunfouist, said—in the same Convention, "It is nothing produced by Mr. Lincoln's election or the non excention of the Fugitive Slave Law. Bus a saster which has been gathering head for thirty years."

The complracy thus exposed by Jackson, and confessed by recent parties to it, was quickened by the growing passion for slavery throughout the slave States. The well-known opinions of the Fathers—the declared convictions of all who were most eminent at the foundation of the Government, and the example of Washington were all discarded, and it was recklessly wowed that slavery is a divine institution—the highest type of civilization—a blessing to master and slave slike—and the very key-stone of our national arch. A generation has grown up with this teaching, so that it is now ready to say with Satan: Evil be thoun y good; by these at least

Evil be then my good; by thee at least Divided empire with Heaven's King I hold; As man ere long and this new world shall kno It is natural that a people thus tra-should listen to the voice of conspir-blavery itself is a constant conspiracy, and supporters, whether in the slave Blates cleewhere, easily become indifferent to rights and principles by which it may be e strained.

WE BLAIR, G. B. MELON, O. W. BELDEN, (api8781-ly) — Senator Wilson has determined to introduce a bill immediately on the opening of Congress to abolish the office of Sutler in the Army. He has been impelled to this by reason of the extortions and abuses practiced upon the soldiers, the profits often being from 200 to 300 per cent, and the quality of the articles furnished as bad as will be tolerated. Liquor, too, is often clandestinely furnished. The pastry and other articles of food furnished have been found to cause sickness. It is known that in very many cases, the Colonels of regiments are partners of the sutlers, the profits being so large that men are often unable to get the appointment upon any other terms. The profits of a sutter for a full regiment are from $6,000 to $12,000 a year.

good joke for court officers and policemen, it is anything but a jest for outsiders, who are possessed of the vulgar notion that their liberties are of too much censequence to be exposed to such a slipshod, careless and unwarranted style of business. We could pick out conduct business in a more straightforward manner than this. A reform is evidently needed in the Police Court.

Sickness at Camp Douglas.

The hospital at Camp Douglas has now one hundred finances sick with measles, and from the infections nature of this troublesome complaint and the rapidity with which it spreads, it is becoming a matter of serious inquiry at the Camp, where proper accommodations, comforts and attendance can be procured. It is nce can be procured. It is oot at all mysterious that the manifest themselves. In so large an aggregate of men, assembled in one campand occupying the same barracks, there will always be found those who will not strictly attend to smitary regulations, a rigidobservance of which is the only safe and against disease. The very presence of this disorder however, and its conagious character, at once suggest that som tagious character, at once siggest that some means should be taken to ease the condition of those in the hospital and prevent any further spread of the disease.

To accomplish these ends it is absolutely imperative that the patients should be provided not only with the necessaries but with some, at least, of the comforts of the sick room. Our citizens and the Sanitary Computer. room. Our citizens and the Sanitary Comp sion are doing nobly for the troops abroad and the ladies have taken a noble step in inaugura-ting a Festival for the aid of the soldiers. But in all our doing we should remember also the soldiers we have with us. All that is need ed would cost but little money and time in its preparation. The most imperative need is for prompt and speedy action. These articles for the sick are needed now.

In the same connection we would suggest to at the Sherman House, and intends g an office in Chicago.

The sion was a most interesting one and enjoyed by the sons of Scotia with great zero. At nine o'clock, the assemblage proceede to the spacious dining rooms, to the music of the Light Gnard Band, where one of the fine anquets, for which the "Briggs" is proverbial, Robert Hervey, President of the St. An. drew's Society, took the chair, supported on either hand by Mayor Rumsey, Colonel Joseph H. Tucker, R. T. Merrick, E. Anthony, James Grant Wilson, and other prominent citizens. Upon the tables were placed numerrelies brought from Scotland a few years since, among them some roses from Burns' gar-den, wild flowers from Dryburgh Abbey, and a piece of "Alloway's haunted kirk." Each member of the society wore on his breast, in addition to the usual badge, a bit of sir, nobody but an authorized officer of the Government can make such a contract,"—leaving Corwin rather abruptly. He remarked to mo, "these volunteer Quartermasters would ruth forty governments if they had rope,"—I suggested that he might authorize Judge Wilson himself, (the Col. of the regiment) to make a contract for his substrence, and limit him to the price paid here (20 cents); turning to Corwin, he said, "I will give you a note to Col. Wilson," he as people did at Willard's and scated at a desk by the window on Lake street, wrote a note to Col. Wilson, which I read; make a contract for the subsistence of your men at a price not to exceed twenty cents per ration—and send, it to me for approval. This note he handed immediately to Mr. Corwin, who was in walting. Col. Webb and myself left him—no other word being spoken. Corwin appeared as a mere messayer bearing a request from, and a reply to, Col. Wilson. He never hulmated that any agreement-or contract had been made or proposed with Lanta & Tinsley of any other person at 13 8-10 cents per ration, or at any other prices promoted of any such fact. Twenty cents was the price paid for furnishing the troops here, and was regarded as the fair and lowest price at which they could be subsisted. Lanta & which they could be subsisted. Lanta & Tinsley were never heard of by Col, Webb in connection with this contract. The contract with Corwin was in fact made by Col. Wilson under enthority of the letter to uskich I have referred, and was sent in to Col. Webb for approval. I do not presume to say that Col. Wilson-tentrated as he was by Col. Webb, and entrusted manily. I will state, on say representations to him, that he was a gentleman of emiment character and integrity)—made the contract with Mr. Corwin at 19cents with a knowledge that Lantz & Timsley were furnishing, or had contracted to furnish, his men at 13 8-10 cents, or with any understanding that the raedge that Lantz & Timbley were furnishing, or had contracted to furnish, his men at 18 8-10 cents, or with any understanding that the rations could or would be furnished by any body at that price, but I do assert, on my own personal knowledge of the facts, that Col. Webb was not informed of the existence of such facts and had no suspicion thereof. The Quartermaster of the regiment, at least, was privy to the facts; he was a sworn oilier of the Government; he knew that the rations could be furnished at the lower price, for he had himself made a contract for it. I assert that he carefully concealed, purposely withheld this knowledge and information from Col. Webb and, to say the least, suffered his Colonel to make the contract with Mr. Corwin at 19 cents, and so exposed him to the suspicion of having abused and imposed on Col. Webb's confidence in him, as an offerer and a genelleman.

ID STUART, Col. Com'g 55th Reg't., and late Lt. Col. 42d Ill. Volunteer The Philips Co-partnership Case. The Circuit Court has been engaged the most of the past week in the hearing of the Philips case, noticed in our columns a day or wo since. Mr. Windett finished reading the epositions of the plaintiff's witnesses on Sat-rday, and announced that he rested his case for the present. The evidence thus far adduced has consisted f letters, chiefly written by the defendant, John Philips, Sr., to the complainant himself and others; also a large number of receipts, bills, and other papers, offered to show that the parties did business as a partnership; and of the depositions of a large number of witnesses as to the manner that they have managed and conducted their business. The most of their testimony relates to statements and declarations of the defendants, mostly of John Philler the of the respect to show a mutual Philips, the father, going to show a mutual and joint interest, and that he and his sons were in fact partners.

The defendant's counsel, E. S. Williams Esq., will commence the defence the testimony on the part of the defe Monday morning, and from the bulk of the National Armory in Chicago.

At the request of the Joint Committee the undersigned would respectfully remind the citizens of Chicago of the urgent necessity of prompt, liberal and energetic effort to secure the establishment at Chicago of the proposed National Armory. A like vigorous effort is being made by the heather, presented by P. Macfarlane, Esq., of Perth, Scotland, gathered from the battle field of Sheriff Muir.

After satisfying the wants of the inner man, the first toast of the evening, being "The day an' a' wha honor it," was given by the fresident and introduced by an appropriate prologue. Music, "Bine Bells of Scotland."
It was drunk with the usual honors.

After other patriotic toasts, Geo. McKeand, Esq., sung "God Save the Queen," with good offect. James Carter, Esq., responded in neat little address.

Responses to sontiments, varying from the grave to the gay, were made during the evening by Messrs. E. Anthony, James C. Rankin, E. T. Merrick, Col. Joseph H. Tucker, Win
James, W. W. Drummond, James C. Rankin, Society, and Ex. Ald. McDonald. Songs and

PROM PORT BOYAL

What has been accomplished at this place since the battle of the 7th, though not so brillion, is hardly less important than the events of that memorable day. 14,000 or 15,000 souls have been constituted into a population and by degrees their various means very generally attended to. It was a labor of no small difficulty simply to land the troops; but that was nothing by comparison with the unloading from the fiert of transports of their cargoes. Two decks have been built, a plant road laid, immense storehouses put up to receive the contents of the yeasels, ovens erected, a peat office established, simultaneously with the prosecution of more purely military labors, such as setting tent, throwing up estrenchments, standinging a camp police, and otherwise administering the government of an army. A thousand men at a time might be seen at work along the shore, constructing wharves, driving horses through the water and along the sand, receiving eagues.

three or four miles off, and was engaged in digging guns, and preparing the which are to render the e. Besides these, four or five on reconnoissances, for the whole of Hilton Island was to be explored and occupied. The troops are now settling downinto camp in their new position. Hamilton's light bat-tery has the honor of an advance position, as sers occupy and arrison the late rebel forti-cation at Braddock's Point, the extreme untitwesterly point of Hilton Head Island, even miles from here. The battery mounts cleven mites from here. The cattery mounts for guns—one Columbiad (10 inch) and three thirty-two pounders. The former was no mounted. When the rebels retreated, on the 7th inst., they spiked the guns with "rat-tail" files. By dirt of great exertion on the part of our ordinance officers, the spikes have been

They think the taking away of 5,000 or 8,000 men (the force necessary for such an undertaking) from Port Royal would leave that place too weak to encounter any determined sitack from the large robel force which, there can be no doubt, is collecting on the msh land. It may be that this army is intended rather for defensive than aggressive operation, but officers of experience do not think it prutent to present too favorable an opportunity for the South Carolinians to retrieve their losses. It is said that Gen. Sherman is somewhan settled at the fact that he may respect all the laurels of the recent fight, and is anxious that the army should distinguish fixed as well.
